

Be a Sponsor for Jazz4Justice™!

You can demonstrate your commitment to justice issues and education by choosing one of the sponsor levels found on the Sponsor Form. We hope you will consider becoming a sponsor at the In the Pocket level or higher, but please know that support at any level is welcomed and appreciated.

You can help preserve the rights of those who cannot afford legal counsel, while making a difference in the life of an aspiring young student with an aptitude and love of music. What is often lacking in the current dialogue on the topic of justice is the extent to which the rhetoric in support of the ideal far exceeds the reality. By supporting this event, you can help those in need of legal counsel/representation for their civil legal issues and those seeking higher education.

While your support will make a tangible difference on a local level for legal aid clients and music scholars, this special event is also a wonderful opportunity to advance your community involvement in the arts! An informal jam session will immediately follow the performance. Musicians of all ages and abilities will have the opportunity to engage in a fun, improvisational collaboration led by Bruce Middle, UMW adjunct instructor of guitar. For area high school students and anyone who ever dreamed of playing in a jazz band, this is a unique opportunity to learn, grow and make new connections. And let's not forget, the concert itself provides Fredericksburg area residents an opportunity to take in a live jazz performance at a very reasonable price.

Best of all, because both Legal Aid WorksSM and the University of Mary Washington are nonprofit organizations, your sponsorship is tax-deductible.
